POLICEMEN ON GUARD.

Irishmen Turn the House of Commons Topsy Turvy.

REBELLED AGAINST GAG TACTICS.

Most Disgraceful Scene Ever Beheld in Parliament Brought on by Balfour—Sons of Erin Knocked Down and Dragged Out.

London, March 6.—The excitement occasioned by the scenes in the house of commons Tuesday night is still very evident, and when the house met at noon, in view of possible disturbances, the whole police force on duty at St. Stephen's had been mobilized and reinforced by reserves.

John Redmond speedily rose and raised a question of privilege regarding the "painful scenes of last night." He claimed that members had been suspended without proper steps being taken to identify them, and that their removal had been accompanied by undue violence. He was satisfied, he said, that members were suspended who had actually gone to the lobby to participate in the division.

The speaker, interrupting, pointed out that Mr. Redmond was not raising a question of privilege, but a point of order. If he was properly informed of any wrongful suspension he (the speaker) would be glad to take steps to rectify them.

Mr. Redmond tried to move an adjournment, and appealed to Mr. Balfour to give the members an opportunity for discussion.

Mr. Balfour, remarking that he presumed it was desired to institute means for preventing a recurrence of the scenes of Tuesday night, promised to consider what opportunity for discussion could be given. The subject was then dropped.

Violent Disorder.

It was an exhibition of unexampled violence and disorder in the British house of commons when ten Irish members, who had refused to obey the speaker's order to leave the house, were dragged out by police, Tuesday night, and it was the first time in history that police had been seen on the floor of the house.

The vote on the account of the civil service for £17,000,000 ($85,000,000) had been closed after a single night's discussion devoted wholly to English education. No Irish member had spoken, although several Irish departments were included in the vote. There had been an understanding that if the evening were given to English education other questions would be discussed at a subsequent sitting.

When Mr. Balfour moved the closure the Irish members protested loudly. John Redmond, Mr. Dillon and older heads of the Irish party had left the house, understanding that no further business would be done, and some of the younger Irishmen became desperately excited over Mr. Balfour's attempt to overreach them. There was no time for deliberate council, and it was decided that they should refuse to go into the division lobby when called upon by the chair to do so.

Speaker Gully was called in, and the names of ten Irishmen who had disobeyed the chairman's order were taken down and they were named for suspension. A terrific tumult arose. Mr. Balfour looked appalled at the result of his action, but nothing could stem the torrent of passion on the Irish benches. At a signal from the sergeant the door of the house was opened and about 20 policemen appeared. It was a spectacle that struck with horror all who witnessed it. The temper of the Irishmen became more dangerous than ever. The speaker appealed to them to obey the orders of the house. They shouted back defiance. The ministers and their supporters looked on shamefaced at the scene being enacted—worse than any that had ever taken place in the Austrian reichsrath.

Dragged Out Bodily.

Eugene Crean, the member for Southeast Cork, struggled desperately against removal, and there was quite a free fight on the floor lasting for five minutes, other Irishmen assisting him. Eventually he was carried out bodily by six policemen amid yells and cheers. The police then returned and carried out each of the remaining recalcitrants in the same manner, although there was no further actual resistance. Six policemen sufficed for each member, with the exception of Mr. Flavin, who is a big man and required eight. Many, as they were being carried out, waved their hands and shouted, "God save Ireland."

A movement was made by some of the younger men to rush across the floor and throw themselves on the ministerialists, but it was checked by their older colleagues, who appealed to them to be satisfied with the protest they were making.

It is impossible to convey any idea of the state of demoralization to which the house was reduced by these unprecedented scenes. In former occasions, Irish members who had refused to go into the division lobby were suspended, but when ordered out they left with the sergeant-at-arms. Never had a member been dragged out by force. Ten members of the house had been named originally for discussing the mandate of the chair, but all the other Irishmen present, 30 in number, determined to follow the example and to compel the government to requisition the police once more.

Mr. Balfour moved the adjournment of the house—usually a formal motion. The Irishmen shouted "no," but they omitted to name tellers in the division, and so the challenge fell to the ground, the speaker declaring the ayes had it. The Irish members continued their demonstration as the ministerialists left the house.

It is understood Mr. Balfour proposes to alter the house of commons rule relating to suspensions, providing a punishment so severe as to make a repetition of such a revolt against the authority of the chair unlikely.

Mr. Balfour subsequently gave notice of a motion to suspend such offenders, hereafter, for the remainder of the session.

Contra Comments.

Dublin, March 6.—Commenting upon the night's scenes in the house of commons, the Freeman's Journal rejoices that "Ireland at last possesses a party that will teach Westminster that if the rights of Ireland are to be sacrificed, the character and privileges of parliament will accompany the sacrifice."

The Irish Times says: "Despairing of getting sufficient support and maintenance in London from their own countrymen, those pretending to represent Ireland, meditating a mendicant pilgrimage to the 'land of the dollar,' fondly imagine brutality will serve as bold advertisement."

SPAIN'S NEW CABINET.

General Weyler Given Portfolio of Minister of War.

Madrid, March 6.—The new Spanish cabinet is constituted as follows:

Premier, Senor Sagasta; minister of foreign affairs, Duke Almodovar; minister of finance, Senor Urzala; minister of war, General Weyler; minister of the interior, Senor Morot; minister of marine, Duke de Veragua; minister of public works, Senor Villameva; minister of public instruction, Senor Romanones; minister of justice, Marquis Terverga.

England May Tax Sugar.

London, March 6.—The chancellor of the exchequer will probably introduce a duty on sugar in the forthcoming budget and will perhaps also add a countervailing duty. A member of the ministry said: "If sugar is not taken off the free list there will be a large number of disappointed Conservatives, and, on the other hand, the introduction of such a duty will meet with the most fierce opposition on the part of the Liberals and all old-time champions of free trade. The movement in favor of such a step is due to the almost utter decay of England's refining industry and to the dire necessity of the government to raise funds by other means than increasing the already enormous direct taxation."

Rival of Paderewski.

New York, March 6.—Paderewski, the musical fad of New York, bids fair to be dethroned by a young man who 15 years ago made his debut as an infant prodigy and was prevented from playing by the Gerry society. After an absence of three years Josef Hoffmann, the pianist, made his reappearance here. His program was the largest and broadest from a musical standpoint that has ever been presented to an American audience by any pianist. Professionals, experts and critics after the performance said that never since Rubenstein's day has such work been heard in this country.

Chinamen Intercepted.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., March 6.—Forty-six Chinamen arrived here in charge of United States officers and are lodged in jail awaiting a hearing. The 90-day limit for them to remain in Canada expired and they were shoved over the line from Atherton, Quebec, into the hands of American officers, who had been apprised of their coming. The officers returned to the border to intercept another party of Chinamen who are expected to enter this country soon.

Melklejohn's Successor.

Washington, March 6.—It is said the president has selected William Carey Sanger of New York for assistant secretary of war, in succession to George D. Melklejohn of Nebraska, who held the office the past four years.

German Appropriations.

Berlin, March 6.—The reichstar passed the foreign and Klao Chou estimates

VISITORS APPLAUDED.

Teddy Didn't Like It and Threatened To Clear the Galleries.

SPECIAL SESSION OF THE SENATE.

Crownshield Raised to Rank of Rear Admiral—McCormick to Be Minister to Austria—Appointment of Jackson Returned to Senate.

Washington, March 6.—When the senate convened the galleries were packed with people, a majority of whom, as before, were visitors to the city. The executive gallery was ablaze with blue, gold cord and epaulettes, the visitors being members of the staff of Governor Yates of Illinois.

Promptly at noon Vice President Roosevelt entered the chamber. As he stepped forward to his desk to call the senate to order a burst of applause ran through the galleries. The vice president seized his gavel and rapped sharply twice for order. Glancing sternly around the galleries, he said: "If there is any applause or disorder the sergeant-at-arms will clear the galleries."

The chaplain in his invocation referred with deep pathos to the sorrow which had fallen upon the junior senator from Alabama (Mr. Pettus) and his wife in the death of their only son.

Mr. Platt (Conn.) called up the amendment to the rules of which he gave notice, relating to the limitation of debate. After the amendment was read Mr. Teller (Colo.) inquired of Mr. Platt whether he expected to secure action upon the amendment at the present extraordinary session. Mr. Platt replied that he did not wish to discuss the proposed amendment at the present time. He wished to have the amendment referred to the committee on rules, but he doubted very much whether the committee on rules could consider it so fully as to enable the senate to take action upon it at this session. He had felt, he said, that the senate ought to change its rules, and he had thought the proper time to introduce his proposition was at the beginning of a new session of congress. After a short debate the resolution was referred to the committee on rules.

Mr. Morgan then addressed the senate on his resolution to abrogate the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Mr. Morgan said he did not boast of the power of the United States in money, men or valor, but he was thoroughly conscious of them and gloried in that consciousness, because he knew when the supreme moment should come and any power in the world should undertake to bridge the United States by placing such restraints upon her sovereignty as were contained in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the American people would resist to the bitter end, "and that resistance," he exclaimed vehemently, "will mean the wiping out of any power on earth that undertakes the job."

The president sent the following nominations to the senate: Robert S. McCormick of Illinois, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Austria-Hungary; Frank S. Jackson of Pennsylvania, to be consul at Patras, Greece, whose appointment to the same post failed of confirmation at the former session; Captain A. S. Crownshield, to be chief of the bureau of navigation with rank of rear admiral; Commanders Chapman G. Todd and Robert M. Berry, to be captains; Lieutenant Commanders Daniel D. V. Stuart and Charles A. Adams, to be commanders; Lieutenants William R. Rush, Harry S. Knapp and William L. Rogers, to be lieutenant commanders; Lieutenants (junior grade) W. N. Powelson and William S. Montgomery, to be lieutenants; Richworth Nicholson of California, to be an assistant paymaster in the navy.

Bunch of Appointments.

The president sent the following nominations to the senate: Robert S. McCormick of Illinois, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Austria-Hungary; Frank S. Cabinet Sworn In.

Washington, March 6.—The members of the cabinet were sworn in in the cabinet room at the White House. The ceremony was entirely informal, no one being present except the president, Chief Justice Fuller, who administered the oath, and Secretary Cortelyou. The members stood around the cabinet table and, with uplifted hands, repeated after the chief justice the oath of allegiance. After extending to each one and to the president mutual congratulations, Chief Justice Fuller withdrew. The members remained with the president half an hour discussing appointments. The appointment of the war claims commissioners and the St. Louis exposition commissioners will be made shortly. In addition some other important appointments are pending.

Chandler Chosen.

Washington, March 6.—Ex-Senator

William E. Chandler of New Hampshire was selected to be president of the Spanish claims commission. The other appointments will soon follow, and it is intended that the commission shall get to work as soon as possible, in view of the vast amount of work to be done.

MARCONI COMING.

Famous Electrician Will Visit This Country One Month.

London, March 6.—Signor Marconi, who sailed Wednesday on the Majestic for New York, said: "I have no big scheme on hand, but am crossing at the invitation of a few friends. My business is for the most part private, though something, of course, may come out of it. I am going to see some members of the equipment bureau of the navy with a view of getting my system officially examined. I shall at least demonstrate my method of working, and in all probability fit up a number of installations on the coast to establish communication with lightships. I also hope to have an opportunity of experimenting on an American warship."

When asked if one of the objects of his trip was to establish wireless communication between England and America he said: "Not in the slightest. We have a long way to go before that can be attained. Tesla has the field at present with that notion. If he succeeds I shall be among the first to congratulate him. In the meantime I have managed to cover 200 miles without difficulty, and hope in a very short time to double that distance, as my apparatus is steadily being improved."

Signor Marconi intends to stay a month in the United States.

BOILED ALIVE.

That Was the Fate Chinese Intended For Foreigners.

Victoria, B. C., March 6.—According to advices received by the steamer Empress of India, documents found by the foreigners in Peking show that orders were issued to the Chinese that as many foreigners as possible were to be taken alive, and according to these same orders the fate planned for them was that their captors should "carry them to the Temple of Heaven and there put them through the process of being boiled."

The news of the finding of these documents show instructions were sent to respondent of the Hong Kong Press. The same correspondent says the documents that instructions were sent to the viceroy of Nanking, Lin King Yi, to attack and massacre the residents of Shanghai.

Sold For Cash.

Pittsburg, March 6.—Two of the principal minority stockholders in the Carnegie Steel company, having about 3,700 shares, are reported to have sold independently of the Morgan interests on a cash basis. The price paid is said to be close to $1,200 a share, and the purchasers will take advantage of the combine offer to the Carnegie shareholders. Friends of H. C. Frick say that they do not believe he will under any circumstances take any office in the new corporation, as his private affairs are so extensive all his time will be required in Pittsburg.

Dock Laborers Strike.

Havana, March 6.—The harbor lightermen joined the stevedores in a strike. This move had been anticipated. The steamer Morro castle of the Ward line brought 50 toughshoremen. The Morro castle is unloading at her dock. Vessels will unload at their wharves until the trouble is settled. The strikers demand an increase from $3.50 to $4.50 per day.

Needs the Money.

Constantinople, March 6.—It is stated here that an important German syndicate has offered the porte a loan of £3,000,000 (Turkish), to be guaranteed by the proceeds of a 6 per cent surtax on the taxes of the empire and a 2 per cent surtax on the inland customs duties. The loan is conditional upon future orders for arms and ammunition to be given German firms.

Ohio Incorporations.

Columbus, O., March 6.—Cuyahoga Improvement company, Cleveland, $10,000; Altamont Athletic Association company, Cincinnati, $20,000; Saranac Oil company, Toledo, $10,000; Lynn Street Milling company, Toledo, $20,000; Twentieth Century Building and Loan company, Cincinnati, $500,000; Boston and Marietta Gas company, $100,000.

Wilhelmina Merry-making.

Amsterdam, March 6.—The festivities begun Tuesday to celebrate the state entry of Queen Wilhelmina and the prince consort, were continued Wednesday. An enormous crowd gathered before the palace to listen to a choir of 2,000 voices serenading the royal couple. The latter stood on the balcony, the queen bareheaded, bowing acknowledgments in response to the popular acclamations.

Filipinos of Cebu Island Considering Terms of Surrender.

NATIVE CAMP SURPRISED AND TAKEN

Commission Investigating the Alleged Fraudulent Manipulation of a Valuable Estate With the Complicity of a Filipino Judge.

Manila, March 6.—Lieutenant West, with the gunboat Laguna de Bay, surprised a Filipino camp on the island of Tatum, off Lake Bay, east of Manila, capturing 31 natives. Many small detachments in various localities are surrendering daily.

It is reported negotiations are in progress for the surrender of all the Filipinos on the island of Cebu.

The United States Philippine commission is investigating the case of Senor Mameje, the native judge of the court of first instance in Manila, who is accused of fraudulently aiding the administrator of the Enrique estates. The case of the Enrique estates is well known, and litigation concerning it has lasted 15 years. The estate was originally worth $1,000,000, but through fraud its value has dwindled to $300,000. The venality and incompetence of the courts will probably be demonstrated.

She Toiled in the Vineyard.

Los Angeles, March 6.—Mother Superior Mary Mariana, 71, is dead at the Sisters' hospital. She was many years in charge of the large orphan asylum at Richmond, Va., and was treasurer of the Order of the Sisters of Charity of the United States. She lived at Emmitsburg, Md., 23 years. She had been paying her yearly visit to the houses of the order, and arrived in Los Angeles from New Orleans a month ago, ill with pneumonia. She rallied from this, and ten days ago was stricken with paralysis. This was followed by two other strokes, the last of which caused her death.

Born in Ohio.

Chicago, March 6.—Moses E. Butterworth, pioneer gold seeker and one of the founders of the Quaker colony at Laporte, Ind., is dead at his residence in this city from neuralgia of the heart. Mr. Butterworth was born in Harveysburg, O., in 1829, and removed when a child with his parents to Laporte. The gold fever in 1849 took him to the Pacific coast, and seven times afterward he crossed the plains with his oxen. One of these trips was made with the late George M. Pullman at the time Mr. Butterworth installed the first quartz mill west of the Missouri.

Five Indicted For Murder.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 6.—Charles Foster, Locke Foster, George Ury, March Lindsay and Willis Miller were indicted by special grand jury on a charge of murdering W. C. Johnson, the celery farmer, last September. Eugene Hames, another suspect, was not indicted. Mr. Johnson was murdered by masked men bent on robbery.

Severely Shaken.

Philadelphia, March 6.—The first section of the Atlantic express on the Pennsylvania railroad ran into the rear end of a local freight, eastbound, three miles west of Coatesville. Three freight cars, engine of the express, three empty baggage cars and a postal car were wrecked. Beyond a severe shaking up none was injured.

Does the Public Ledger endorse the "tax shirker?"

Even the Courier-Journal is moved to remark that Mr. Beckham made a serious mistake in pardoning gambler El. Alvey. Br'er Marsh is still to be heard from; but Br'er Doley will be heard from "still."—Public Ledger.

Well, the BULLETIN's position on this subject of pardons is not at all in doubt. We have criticised this abuse of the pardoning power for years, until we have almost lost all hope of seeing it corrected. Every Governor in the last two decades has turned loose worse criminals than gamblers, defying courts and juries.

Lines From Longview Insane Asylum.
 [By Dr. A. N. Ellis.]

Many exquisite poems replete with splendid imagery, genuine feeling, touching pathos and tender sentiment have been composed by persons hopelessly insane.

The following is from the pen of a lady confined for many long years in one of the Ohio asylums.

Although the horizon of her mind was overcast with clouds of the deepest gloom, there was still one little spot where she, at rare intervals, caught a glimpse of the heavenly blue and revelled in the bright sunbeams of the Infinite. Once in a while she committed her thoughts to paper, and many of these beautiful fragments attest the fact that she was—although a hopeless and miserable mental wreck—still possessed of many of the God-like attributes of a gifted and gentle spirit.

These lines were addressed to a rose just budding into life in the lattice window of her sitting room:

"I have often seen the flower spring
 From out the mouldering wall,
 Have seen the clustering blossoms cling
 And grace the ruined hall."
 But here 'mid scenes of human woe,
 The little rose intends to blow;
 So in life's shades however drear,
 Some ray of mercy may appear.
 Bloom, tiny flower; a gracious hand,
 Invisible, unfolds thy leaves;
 O'er scenes of grief at His command,
 Joy still with sorrow interweaves."

J. T. Reed and Miss Asa Doyle, a Fleming couple, were married Wednesday by Judge Newell.

—Fleming Gazette: "Among the many noticeable social events of the season it is said that Mrs. R. K. Hart has 'carried off the palms.' On last Thursday evening, February twenty-eight, she entertained a number of lady friends to a green and white luncheon, which in its beauty, extensiveness, daintiness and general harmony positively baffles description. Upon entering the dining room, so lovely and entrancing were the decorations that it seemed a dream, but it was real, for we drank in the refreshing odors of the magnificent Bride roses and partook of the viands which the daintiest epicure could only pronounce perfect. Spicy conundrums, instead of toasts, were happily introduced during luncheon, written on dainty slips of paper, which were read aloud by each one and answers promptly given. The one scoring the largest number of correct answers was awarded a bunch of lovely roses. Mrs. Hart was assisted by her guest and relative, Miss Weaver, whose genial manner and general attractiveness helped to make us all feel that it was an occasion which would be ever remembered as one of the most delightful evenings of the winter of 1901."

FOR YOUNG MEN.

The State Y. M. C. A. Executive Committee Planning for This Year's Work—II.
 E. Rosevear Re-elected Secretary.

The annual meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of Kentucky was held in Louisville this week.

The officers of the committee were elected as follows: James Edward Hardy, Chairman; O. C. Stoll, Vice Chairman; George L. Burton, Recording Secretary; Val P. Collins, Treasurer; Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary; F. J. Michel, Assistant State Secretary; Howard Caldwell, Student Secretary, and John Lake, County Work Department Secretary.

Since the force of secretaries has been enlarged to meet the demands of the growing work, the Advisory Committee reported, suggesting a new policy for the year's work, which was unanimously adopted. It was found that the new association year begins with a balance from last year of $18.27. At the State convention a few days ago a larger amount in subscriptions for the new year's work was raised than ever before, but as plans were made for a very much larger work it will be necessary to raise and expend $8,000.

It was voted to resume the publication of the quarterly known as "Kentucky's Young Men;" to furnish to the newspapers of the State a report, at least once a month, of the progress of the work; to establish a system whereby corresponding members shall be appointed in places all over the State, whose duty it shall be to notify the State Committee of the departure of young men to attend college or to reside in other places, so that the association workers or pastors may be notified of their coming.

It was decided to establish association work at the State Guard encampment this summer, to prosecute the county work and organize at least one mountain county during the year; to give proper emphasis to the growing work of the railroad and student departments, and to undertake greater plans than ever before in this work for the young men of Kentucky.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c, and $1. Trial bottles free at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

The Jung Brewing Company, of Cincinnati, represented by Judge Wall at the trial of the brewery combine in Covington this week was acquitted Wednesday.

Wesley Tucker, of the Ohio River Lumber Company's sawmill, Aberdeen, ran up against a saw he was operating Wednesday, and as a result is now minus two fingers and a thumb.

He is at the City Hospital, Cincinnati.

MISSING.

Mr. Lon Harney, the Milk Man, Disappeared Late Wednesday Afternoon—No Trace of Him.

Mr. Lon Harney, the dairyman, disappeared rather mysteriously late Wednesday afternoon and no trace of him had been found up to 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Harney was last in business with Mr. John H. Worthington, the two conducting a dairy near Hilltop. They sold their stock some time ago, however, and recently Mr. Harney has had no work. He lives on the Whitaker farm, on the Lexington pike.

Wednesday afternoon he was in town, and was seen as late as 4 o'clock by Mr. Jacob Nash, the barber. He failed to return home at the usual hour, and his wife after waiting until 8 o'clock became so alarmed over his absence that she sent a neighbor, a Mr. Garrett, down town to make some inquiries. Mr. Garrett was unable to find any trace of the missing man except what he obtained from Mr. Nash. Mrs. Harney notified the police this morning, but the missing man has not been located. She is almost distracted over the disappearance of her husband.

"Lost in Egypt"

"Lost in Egypt" is a spectacular comedy in four acts with a good plot, elegant wardrobe and special scenery for the entire play.

In the most emotional scenes, the comedy is so nicely interwoven that one moment the audience is said to be almost in tears and the next moment they are convulsed with laughter. The play abounds with clever specialties by nearly every member of the company, comprising Robt. H. Harris, Robt. F. Parkinson, Marc Goldame, Walter Arlington, Edward Beckett, Miss Jovita Erney, Natalia Glaser, Jennie Burleigh, Mabel Drew and others, with Professor Bert Farnell as musical director. The sale of seats begins Saturday morning at Nelson's.

CHARLES CASE, JR.

A Former Resident of Aberdeen Died This Week in Indian Territory—Burial This Morning.

Mr. Case was a soldier in the late Spanish-American war and his remains were escorted from Ashland, Ky., by members of his company. He died in the Indian Territory Monday and his remains were taken through to Ashland, thence brought back to Aberdeen this morning for burial.

In the list of postoffice appointments given out some days ago by the department at Washington City appeared the name of T. H. West, Mill Creek. There have been several inquiries about Mr. West. Yesterday the department announced that Mr. West had been appointed to the office at Millen Creek, instead of Mill Creek.

The Lexington Gazette does not take much stock in the alleged failure of the wheat crop. It says: "There is much complaint of wheat, but as a matter of fact it is in very good condition, save where infested with the fly. Since the sowing there has not been a single dashing rain to fill the drill mark. While the leaves are seared from the frost and the lack of rain and snow the plants are sound and vigorous in the drill marks." In this county the complaint as to the poor condition of the crop is almost universal.

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep," but, like many proverbs, that will not stand. Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally. Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire. These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

Westville, February 4, 1899.
I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month. A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended. I will use every effort to get others to use it.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN.

If Maysville People Are Not Convinced by Local Testimony, They Differ From Other People.

Facts are stubborn. Some may be disputed, None can be disproved. A fact is always hedged about with proof; Has to stand the test of investigation. How it drifts to the realm of doubt, Investigate closely the following; The closer the scrutiny the more convincing the results. A Maysville citizen speaks here; Speaks from experience and conviction.

Mr. Frank Bergoyne, of 331 East Third street, says: "Greater praise cannot be given Doan's Kidney Pills than their wonderful merit deserves. I procured them at J. Jas. In Memory of the Late Dr. I. R. Best.

[Millersburg Correspondence Paris Kentuckian.]

On Sunday, February 17th, at 10 a. m., the spirit of Dr. I. R. Best entered into rest. It was fitting that he should call on this first day of the week. "Whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." Regarding the death of a friend is at all times sad, but there are times and circumstances which give a deeper tinge to our sorrow. When death casts its shadows over our hearts, and this is especially true when those among our best friends are taken. No friend was ever truer; no neighbor more considerate or obliging; a man of uncommon power of will and force of character; was a man of unusual intelligence and great powers of mind; plain, practical and unassuming in manner. As a Christian, retiring and modest; loved his church, and when the hour came to die was ready, enjoying a happy peace with God and all men, resting firmly on the sure promises of God, and expressing that trust to those about him. As a husband and father, loving, tender and affectionate; no father loved his children more or received more affection and obedience in return. As a citizen, just, always found on the right side of every moral issue. In educational affairs he was always foremost. Through his untiring energies the M. F. C. was rebuilt after the burning of it in 1878. After the Wesleyan College was removed it was through his energies that a training school was started.

Dr. Best was born near Washington, Mason County, Ky., January 15th, 1810; graduated in 1831 at Centre College, Danville; studied medicine with the late Dr. Bradford, of Augusta, Ky., and in 1836 graduated with high honors from Jefferson School of Medicine, Philadelphia. He was married in 1837 to Miss Sallie Barbee, of Danville, who with five sons and one daughter survive. He moved to Millersburg in 1870 and was associated two years with the late Dr. Stitt. In the thirty-one years of unbroken practice, Dr. Best never lost a day from sickness and very few from other causes. As a physician he had few equals; his tender nursing and sympathy added much to his success. In the past few days the number that have called to express love and sympathy to the family have said: "Thirty-one years have we had Dr. Best in our families, not only as a doctor, but as a friend. During the course of all these years he was the only doctor that stayed in town, working day and night, even helping to bury the dead. He knew for two years that he had an incurable disease, but kept on with his work until three weeks ago, and from that time until the end came his sufferings were beyond description, but so patiently he bore them, so tranquil was his death we can say: "Death is swallowed up in victory." His dear brothers were almost constantly with him, and his sister, Mrs. Joseph A. Miller, was with him during the entire time. As a family they were devoted to each other.

The funeral at the Methodist Church Tuesday morning was conducted by Rev. D. H. Huntington, assisted by Revs. Laird, Fisher and Nutter. Burial at our cemetery. The flowers were numerous and beautiful.
